

PRISM Consortium Application

The PRISM Consortium is a private research, development, learning, think-tank consortium that is an exclusive and invitation-only membership organization. The group maintains a strict no-consultant policy. All meetings are closed and private and we do not allow non-members. Any member has the first right of refusal of any application made by a competitor. Membership dues paid in full entitle the authority of refusal.

PRISM is an executive level only membership. However, non-executive members can take advantage of other offerings that relate to and align with the benefits of the PRISM output.
